Actively promote our hobby, CSBS, NBS & your Regional Clubs

Engage your community. Post your button shows and send stories, articles & pictures to your local media (most cities have public internet sites with a calendar of local events (especially free events)

Send out show announcements to antique stores, quilt & knitting shops,
fabric stores & libraries.
Be creative!

Ask your regional airport authority and city libraries if they have a public space for educational button displays.

Provide speakers to relevant groups. Share the amazing history of buttons!

ButtonBytes!

Ask your fellow club members if they'd like to join. It's free! On-line button forum called "ButtonBytes" (NBS recognized & free to join through Google Groups) or see Ronnie Wexler — rwexler2@gmail.com about how to join! ButtonBytes is a wonderful resource for gaining button knowledge, asking questions & finding answers, communicating your "Want List" of buttons you are looking for, and the very fun Wild Wednesday button buying, selling and trading amongst and between a great group of ButtonBytes members!

Increase your knowledge, share ideas, buy & sell buttons with no fees.
Buy, Sell, Trade, Share Knowledge, Post your Button "Want" list!
